

Gresham's School Websites

PLEASE READ THIS INFORMATION AND THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF USE CAREFULLY BEFORE USING THIS WEBSITE.

By using this site, you have given your consent, by implication, that you both understand and agree to be bound by all aspects of this document.

Cookies

A cookie is a piece of computer code that a website stores on your computer. The cookies we use depend on whether you are a 'guest user', just using the public site, or whether you are a user who has logged into the site with a previously setup user ID and password. Examples of this type of user would be employees of Gresham's School, pupils, parents and members of the Old Greshamian's Club.

For all users

Some cookies we use are essential for the technical communication between your computer and our webserver, and for you to use the site effectively. These cookies are called 'session cookies' and are closed when you leave the site.

Our website uses Google Calendars and Google Maps. In the use of these applications, Google installs some cookies that stay on your computer for a fixed period after you have left our site. These are called 'persistent cookies' and more details can be found from the link to Google below.

For 'login' users only

Several applications, including email, remote access to software and servers and administrative applications store 'persistent' cookies. None of these collect or store personal data unless YOU have ticked boxes, or otherwise, which allows our site to remember you in some way. For further details contact ictsupport@greshams.com

None of the cookies we use collect any personal data about you. You can turn cookies off on your computer, but you may find that some parts of the site do not work.

Log Files

Like most standard website servers, we use log files which collect information such as the internet protocol (IP) address of your computer, browser type, internet service provider (ISP), date/time, number of hits and pages visited. No personally identifiable information is collected. This data could enable the geographical position of the user to be found and we use it for marketing purposes.

Privacy and Data Protection

As a guest user, we do not collect any personal information about you unless you give us the information. We use an on-line form for enquiries, in which you are asked to give your email address and name. This information is only used to enable a contact to be made with you by employees of Gresham's School, and is processed under the terms of our notification registration under the Data Protection Act. This and any subsequent personal information you may give us is held on password protected servers and accessible only to those employees who need to use it. It is not given to any 3rd parties without your express consent, except where stated in our DPA notification. Full details of our notification registration can be found via the Information Commissioners Website , www.ico.co.uk . Our registration number is Z1091185.

Users buying goods or services

Personal information entered, to enable goods to be sent to you or services to be provided, is transmitted in encrypted form and is as secure as can be made by internet technology. Once you have registered with the site, subsequent visits are 'personalised' due to the information we then have about you, and the goods and services you have bought. Payment is made directly from your computer to PayPal and no personal information and credit cards details you may enter on their portal pass through any part of our IT system. Further details about PayPal's privacy policy can be found at www.paypal.co.uk

Links

The website contains links to other websites. We are not responsible for the privacy policies or practices of third party websites and you need to look at their individual statements.

Terms and conditions of use

All the information provided on this website is for your general information and personal use only, and must not be used for any commercial purposes or linked to from any other website without express permission from The Business Director, Gresham's School, Cromer Road, Holt, Norfolk, NR25 6EA. We try to ensure that the information of the website is up to date and accurate, but exclude any liability for any consequences or loss due to inaccuracies.
